

Daniel Hartmann

CTO

« Quality and stability are not side issues of modern architects, but rather they are part of their cornerstones.

Daniel Hartmann (born 1986) has been working for JobCloud since 2011. After starting as a web developer, he took over the leadership of the development department and with it the responsibility for the application landscape of JobCloud. Since July 2018, he has been CTO and member of the management board.

Before working for JobCloud, Daniel Hartmann was head of the IT department of Betterhomes. With further steps in different companies, he managed to build up extensive know-how in the web environment and associated technologies and working procedures.

Daniel Hartmann is married and lives with his wife in the city of Zurich.
